eBooks on EBSCOhost are also available via GObi

eBooks on EBSCOhost allows for a comprehensive and powerful search experience—with every search, relevant eBook titles will appear directly alongside your other EBSCO data bases, exposing users to the full depth of your institution's offerings and increasing usage and visibility of your institution's entire collection.

In addition to individual title purchasing, EBSCO offers an extensive list of Subject Sets, which are pre-packaged collections of frontlist titles created by EBSCO's Collection Development team. The Sets allow for quick and easy purchases in particular high-interest subject areas. The Psychology Subject Set contains dozens of top psychology eBooks.

Another option is to create your own customized psychology collection via EBSCO's Patron Driven Acquisition, or have EBSCO create a custom collection for your institution. (Titles are also available for purchase on an individual basis).

Discovery

With the ability to include dedicated psychology databases as well as metadata from thousands of relevant sources, EBSCO Discovery Service™ is by far the most comprehensive discovery service for psychology research.

WHILE SOME DISCOVERY SERVICES provide broad coverage across a variety of subject areas, EBSCO Discovery Service™ (EDS) is designed to provide a broad and deep approach to discovery. This means that we go to great lengths to not only provide comprehensive coverage of each subject area (e.g., Psychology), but also the highly-refined and robust indexing needed to offer an appropriate resource for subject-specific research.

Unparalleled Depth of Indexing

EDS returns superior search results because of the depth of superior metadata available. Side-by-side searches with other discovery services prove that EDS provides more in-depth indexing for the clear majority of journals and magazines. Whether or not a library subscribes to an index on EBSCOhost, high-quality subject indexing (from controlled vocabularies) is always prevalent within EDS, and massive backfiles are included in many cases.

Access Critical Psychology Indexes through the Unique Platform Blending Solution. EBSCO has developed a unique Platform Blending technology, which infuses content from dozens of top subject indexes (to which a library subscribes on the EBSCOhost platform – such as PsycINFO) into the EDS experience. This locally-indexed solution (NOT federation) allows researchers to capitalize on the investments that libraries have made in these indexes, and maximize the value of the full suite of library resources.

There is tremendous value in high-end indexing when it comes to providing the best results for a search query. This is a primary reason libraries utilize detailed subject indexes such as PsycINFO.

In the end, EDS combines comprehensiveness with high-end indexing and instant access to critical full text in order to provide the best, most relevant results immediately to the researcher.

ILS Partners

EBSCO is partnering with several ILS vendors in order to provide libraries with more choices on how they invoke their catalog – either with the ILS as their front end, or through the EDS platform as the front end – while retaining the benefits of both systems.

Partner ILS vendors include:

- Innovative Interfaces, Inc.
- OCLC
- SirsiDynix
